Your Tasks

As a Web Developer, you will be responsible for the design, development and optimisation of modern web applications. You will use JavaScript (ES6+), HTML and CSS and work with frameworks such as Vue.js, Angular or React to develop scalable and interactive user interfaces. You will work closely with UI/UX designers to create intuitive and powerful interfaces and place particular emphasis on performance optimisation and accessibility to ensure an excellent user experience. You will also integrate REST APIs and backend interfaces and use web components and Lit.js as required. You will document and present the results of your work to the team in order to ensure a constant exchange and continuous further development.

Your Profile

You have a degree in computer science, software engineering, mobile computing, media informatics or have comparable practical experience. You are characterised by sound knowledge of JavaScript (ES6+), HTML and CSS as well as experience with modern front-end frameworks such as Vue.js, Angular or React. Ideally, you have knowledge of Web Components and Lit.js. Initial experience in interdisciplinary teams and software development projects is an advantage. A very good command of English is required, knowledge of German is desirable. You work independently, creatively and solution-orientated, are open to new technologies and can quickly familiarise yourself with new topics. The position can be filled part-time or full-time, with a Master's or Bachelor's degree - we will adapt to your qualifications!
